We went on a few excursions that were very different from any course I have taken before. We went to the Italian prison where many mafia members were being held, we visited the Italian Parliament while it was in session, and we also attended the memorial event at the Carabinieri school for victims killed by the mafia. We had trips to the Maxxi Museum, Parliament, Italian Assembly, and a Prison near Rebibba. All these trips were super interesting and I'm so glad we were able to go on them during class. It made learning so much more engaging and interesting. I learned a lot from actually being able to see these things in person. We did many very interesting field trips. We went to a museum to see art from the mafia, we went to the parliament and we went prison. They were all very valuable. The topic itself was very interesting. I was able to learn more of the Italian culture. I enjoyed the out of class activities we were able to experience. The trips helped me understand better the material. I liked the field trips. They helped me connect different aspects of the state and mafia. The prison visit. The maxi museum.
